

Write my essay and make money

And to do this is much easier than you think. All you need is to be able to write poetry, and write well. Although you need to remember that any product has its own customers, and in poetry, as in any other area of human activity, luck sometimes plays a much more important role than talent.

Write my essay

Where can I sell poetry

Well, you can sell your poems in order to earn a hobby in the following places:

1. Music production centers

They always need new lyrics for songs, and therefore if you can write them, then feel free to send your creations there. However, remember that any song consists of at least 2-3 verses and one chorus, and that when writing text you must strictly observe the alternation of both stressed syllables and rhymes.

As for the subject matter of the text itself, first you need to find out exactly what the production center is doing, where you are going to send your poems. Agree, it will be foolish to send romances to those who read rap, and, conversely, to try to interest hip-hop people who spin exclusively pop music.

2. Recording Studios

Starting to work with them, you rely only on the fact that a particular artist, who will record in the studio, will open the folder on the table and see your poems. And this is quite real. If only because the vast majority of recording studios operate as exchanges, offering their customers both music and lyrics.

We just want to warn you in advance: they won't pay you right away. You will receive money only if your poems want to buy. At the same time, the studio, as an intermediary, will take from 10 to 60 percent from you, but believe me, what remains will be more than enough for you to want to continue.

3. Singers and composers

They need to be contacted through their sites. And now every composer and at least once a singer on TV has websites. However, you must be prepared for the fact that there are thousands of people like you, and it may well be that no one will ever read the poems you sent. Therefore, send your poems to as many places as possible, doing this as often as possible. Sooner or later you will reach the addressee, and then But for now, let us send at least one piece of work you have written.

4. Children's publications

They always need talented poets, and therefore, if you really have a spark of God, you can easily find work there. Just be prepared for the fact that at first your poems (at least until you become a venerable poet) will be cut and remade. And also you constantly have to write on other people's ideas. But you still need to start with something, and working in a children's publishing house is not a bad start at all.

5. Sites on child development and leisure

Here you will be asked to write scripts for matinees, birthdays, school parties and educational games. Of course, such work is far from what you dreamed about. But they pay on such sites literally on the same day when they accept your poems, and besides, now publishing on the Internet is almost equal to print publications, and if so, this will be a great chance to replenish your portfolio.

6. Advertising agencies

Well, this work is suitable only for the most stubborn, hardworking and unconventionally minded people. And all because, most likely, you will have to write 50, 100, and even 200 versions of the verse on the same topic, before the customer chooses what he really likes. But as a result, he will pay you so much that you will feel like a comfortable person for more than one month.

Can i pay someone to write my essay

Of course, this is not a complete list, and if you just try to sell your poems, you yourself will learn many other places where you can sell high-quality poetry. The main thing is not this, but the fact that at the moment in Moscow alone more than 5,000 people earn from 3 or more thousand dollars a month, and no one is stopping you from becoming one of them.